Senate Proceedings.

Representatives from the New States Sworn In.

THEY DRAW LOTS FOR TERMS.

Senators Pottigrew, Allen and Case secure the Long Term Prizes, While the Terms of Senators Squires, Moody and Pierce Will Expire in 1891—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The credentials of Messrs. Pierce and Casey, as senators from the new state of North Dakota, were presented, read and placed on file, and then the two senators, escorted by Messrs. Cullom and Washburn, advanced to the desk and took the oath of office.

Mr. Hoar, from the committee on privileges and elections, reported back the resolution offered by him on Monday providing a mode for ascertaining by lot the classes to which the senators from the three new states, North Dakota, South Dakota and Washington, shall be assigned as to their respective terms of service.

Mr. Cullom thereupon presented certificates from the two houses of the North Dakota legislature designating Mr. Pierce as the senator for the long term.

Mr. Hoar remarked that that action had been taken by the two houses of North Dakota after the election of the two senators, and he intimated that, under the constitution, the legislature had nothing to do with the matter which was expressly devolved on the senate.

Mr. Gorman remarked that identically the same case had been presented in regard to the first senator from Minnesota, when the legislature designated Mr. Rice as the senator for the long term, and when the senate decided that that action could not be regarded by it.

Mr. Cullom explained that he had thought it proper that the action of the two houses of North Dakota should be placed on the records of the senate as an expression of their desire in the matter.

Mr. Call argued in favor of the right of the legislature in the matter.

The resolution was agreed to, and then the drawing by lot, as provided by it, was proceeded with.

The result of it was that of the two senators assigned from the state of Washington, Mr. Squire was assigned to the class of senators whose term expires March 3, 1891, and Mr. Allen to the class expiring March, 1893; of the South Dakota senators Mr. Moody's term expires March 3, 1891, and Mr. Pottigrew's March 3, 1893; and of the North Dakota senators, Mr. Pierce's term expires March 3, 1891, and Mr. Case's March 3, 1893.

Various executive reports and communications were presented and referred to appropriate committees.

Several petitions were also presented and referred; among them the following:

By Mr. Cullom, of the Short Horn Producers' association, in favor of subsidies for steamships to South and Central Africa; and in favor of Chicago as the site of the proposed world's fair in 1892.

The first bill introduced in the senate in the first session of the Fifty-first congress came from Senator Sherman, and was aimed at trusts. It is identical with the anti-trust bill reported by him last year from the committee on finance. It declares all trusts unlawful, gives persons power to recover in courts whenever articles are advanced in value by combinations, and declares officers of trusts guilty of misdemeanors.

At 3 o'clock the senate went into executive session. The doors were opened shortly afterwards, and the senate adjourned.

The house was not in session.

Contract Awarded.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Secretary Tracy has awarded the contract for furnishing the steel for the construction of machinery for the two new cruisers now being built at the Brooklyn navy yard, to the Midvale Steel company, of Philadelphia, at $85,577, and the contract for boiler tubes for the same cruisers to W. A. Wheeler, of New York, at $15,489.

House Committee on Rules.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The committee on rules of the house of representatives will be announced to-morrow. It is stated unofficially that the committee will consist of Messrs. Reed, McKinley, Cannon, Carlisle and Randall.

COUNTING THE LOSS AT LYNN.

Definite Figures Given Out—The Town to Be Rebuilt.

LYNN, Mass., Dec. 5.—For the first time since the great fire it is possible to make a reasonably accurate canvass of the situation as it relates to the shoe industry. It appears that fully 60 per cent. of the shoe and leather houses of the city were burned out.

The number of shoe firms burned out was over eighty, while fifteen sole leather cutters and about sixty dealers in tops, stiffenings and other shoe findings, were also burned out. A careful estimate of loss on shoes, finished and in progress of making, a total of 12,500 cases, valued at a rate of $1 per pair as they run, at $750,000. This is considered to be rather an underestimate. An estimate on the loss in sole leather held in stock by sole cutters and manufacturers is put at $500,000. This is principally of crop sole in sides and cut out, while the loss on heel, stiffening, inner soling, etc., will reach $250,000 more.

R. E. Hillard, who was entirely burned out, had on hand 10,500 sides of crop sole leather and 11,300 cases of cut soles valued in all at over $100,000 on which there was insurance of only $38,000.

The loss on morocco leather is placed at $360,000. The loss on machinery is estimated at $260,000. The taking out of the way of so many large shoe factories if only temporarily, will tend to increase the business of the houses left, while the loss of stock, machinery, etc., which must be replaced, will have a strengthening effect on the general markets. That the town will be built up at an early date is true, but the fire will have caused a temporary spreading of the immense shoe business of Lynn and it now looks as if it may take many years to bring the business back.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.

A Freight Train Dashes Into a Crowd of Waiting Passengers.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Dec. 5.—A fatal accident occurred at 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning at the Hazle street crossing of the Jersey Central railroad. The labor train which conveys workmen from this city to the company's shops at Ashley was due at the Hazle station, and several hundred men were assembled waiting for it. A number of them walked up the track a short distance to meet the train and secure good seats.

Suddenly a fast freight from the south approached at a high speed. The men jumped from the northbound track to the southbound when the labor train, rushing around a sharp curve, plunged into their midst. In their scrambling many were thrown down or against the two trains. Two men were struck by the freight and two by the labor train. Benjamin Polase, aged 60, instantly killed, leaves a wife but no children; William Breit, aged 60, body cut in half, leaves family of grown children. His wife is now lying at the point of death from fever. Steven Steffel, a Poland, aged 30 years, head crushed and leg cut off. He was taken to the hospital, but will die. Conrad Ernst, aged 30 years, skull fractured; his injuries will probably prove fatal.

Four Passengers Hurt in a Collision.

PARIS, Ill., Dec. 5.—An accident occurred at 9 o'clock last at the Midland crossing on the Indianapolis and St. Louis railroad, seriously injuring four persons and slightly injuring six others.

The Matton accommodation west-bound, known as No. 3 passenger, was a few minutes late, and while crossing the Terre Haute and Peoria railroad the rear coach was run into by a freight engine going southeast on the Terre Haute and Peoria. The coach was thrown entirely from the track.

J. P. Fleisheim, of the Western News company, Chicago, was badly cut on the head, and suffered internal injuries.

A. J. Bishop, of Delaware, O., received a severe cut on the head and his side was injured.

S. J. Clark, agent for Nelson, Morris & Company, St. Louis and Chicago, had his right shoulder dislocated.

Elijah Hall, of Kansas, Ill., back injured.

E. N. Collins, of Buffalo, N. Y., head cut and internal injuries.

Mrs. Wentgrover, of this city, back injured, ribs and collar bone broken.

W. H. Lew, of Rochester, N. Y., slight injuries about the head.

Four other persons received slight injuries, but were able to continue their journey.

On the Pennsylvania, Near Greensburg, PITTSBURG, Dec. 5.—An eastbound express train on the Pennsylvania railroad ran into a freight train near Greensburg Tuesday morning. Several cars and the engines were wrecked. A dozen persons were injured, some of them, it is believed, fatally. The accident was caused by a switch being left open.

LATER—Engineer Brown, of freight train, had legs broken, cut on side of head and was injured internally; serious.

Elmer Myers, fireman on freight, fatally scalded.

Engineer Daly, of the day express, was terribly burned and will probably die.

George Gray, fireman, badly crushed, but may live.

Baggage Master Burkholder badly bruised.

George Sager, passenger, of Lancaster, head badly cut.

Samuel Fior, of Philadelphia, deep cut on head and face.

Dr. Rline, of Greensburg, slightly injured.

One on the Grand Trunk.

ST. CATHERINES, Ont., Dec. 5.—An accident occurred on the Grand Trunk railway about six miles east of here yesterday evening, resulting in the death of one man and injury of four others. A gravel train, on which about fifty men were at work, was run into by a heavily laden coal train and the gravel cars smashed to splinters and piled up in a bad wreck.

Most of the gravel train men jumped and escaped. The man killed was named Nixen, of Hamilton. The injured are Martin Allen, of Hamilton, left leg broken; William Dray and Thomas McKeogh, of Hamilton, badly bruised about the legs; William Highland, of Hamilton, back sprained. None of the coal train crew were injured.

Killed on the Track.

ELKTON, Ind., Dec. 5.—William Heath, a track walker, was killed near North East last night by a wrecking train on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore road.

Aaron Winslow, colored, was found dead on the railroad this morning near Bacon Hill. He was killed by a train in the night.

Alleged Crookedness in Ohio's Election.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 5.—Mr. Marquis, defeated Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, has served notice of contest upon Mr. Lampton, Republican lieutenant governor-elect, and the grounds of the proposed contest have been made public. They contain sensational allegations of casting of illegal ballots in nearly every county in the state, and in Hamilton and one other county nearly every precinct furnishes its quota of alleged fraud. It is charged that ballots were marked for fraudulent purposes in some counties, and that an overwhelming amount of corruption will be developed. Lampton's representatives, on the other hand, assert that they will be able to meet every allegation and go them several points better when the evidence is all in.

One Whole Day's Talk.

What the Cronin Jury Had to Listen To.

LAWYER DONAHOE'S ARGUMENT.

He Devotes His Speech Almost Exclusively to the Phases of the Case Relating to His Clients, O'Sullivan and Kunze—He Gets No Money from the Latter for His Services.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—When the court opened in the Cronin murder case Attorney Dan. Donahoe began his argument for the defense. Mr. Donahoe announced that he would devote his speech almost exclusively to the phases of the case relating to his clients, O'Sullivan and Kunze. He began his address by saying that he felt he was addressing the jury in behalf of innocent men, and that he would do the best he could in their behalf.

The counsel then described how he had been retained to defend O'Sullivan and said he had never heard of the man until he was informed of him by Mike Whalen and never saw him until he visited him in jail. He told how he had been appointed by the court to defend Kunze and declared he had never received $1 from Kunze or his friends for his defense.

Mr. Donahoe then took up the defense of Kunze and attacked the testimony of young James and questioned its credibility.

Donahoe denied any identification of Kunze by James or Mertes. He then devoted an hour to reading the law and relating cases of mistaken identity. One argument made by the attorney was that if one bit of the evidence offered by the state—one link in the chain—were false, then the whole structure must fall to the ground. The bit which Mr. Donahoe thought was false was the state's claim that Burke was in the Carlson cottage the night of May 4. He held with great emphasis that it had been proven by the defense that he was in Danahy's saloon at that time.

The speaker took up again the dubiousness of identifications, enlarged on the cases in his recollection, and quoted from books to complete his illustrations. He then referred to Mertes' and James' testimony about seeing Kunze at 117 Clark street and at the gate of the Carlson cottage, and said that to think such testimony was worthy of serious consideration was absurd.

Mr. Donahoe next took up the questions of reasonable doubt and circumstantial evidence and said the latter should be handled very gingerly, if at all. Touching the contract, the speaker did not deny its existence, but claimed that unless it had been proved that O'Sullivan in making the contract had done so with criminal intent, the fact had no significance. He thought the state had so failed to prove.

In closing, Mr. Donahoe besought the jury to deal justly with his clients, and if the name of Alexander Sullivan had ever prejudiced them in any manner, not to let that prejudice influence their minds in arriving at their verdict. Court then adjourned.

A HEARTLESS MOTHER.

She Deliberately Throws Her Babe Into the Ohio River.

MADISON, Ind., Dec. 5.—A well dressed couple, the lady heavily veiled and bearing an infant in her arms, took passage on the steamer Lancaster at Louisville Tuesday evening. Shortly after dark the lady reported that, while at supper, her babe had been stolen. All became excitement. A thorough search of the boat failed to find any trace of the missing child. Suspicion was aroused by the coolness of the parents and they were placed under arrest.

Shortly afterwards the horrible truth was revealed by the confession of the inhuman mother that, at the solicitation of her paramour, James Hutchinson, she had dropped her child into the river some distance below this city. She gave her name as Annie Butcher, aged 18, and Carrollton, Ky., as her home. She stated she became acquainted with Hutchinson, who came from near Parkersburg, W. Va., three years ago. About two months ago she left home to hide her shame, and her child was born in Louisville about four weeks ago. She seemed to realize to some extent her terrible crime, and presented a picture of mental anguish seldom witnessed. The prisoners were taken on to Carrollton to be turned over to the authorities.

THE MINNEAPOLIS FIRE.

Startling Statement by the Elevator Man. Funeral of the Victims.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 5.—The Journal prints the story of Julius Miller, the day elevator man of The Tribune building, which throws a new light on the cause of the fire. Miller says that on Saturday, the day of the fire, at 5 p. m., he saw James W. Loftus, the night engineer, and his brother go into the vacant room on the third story where the fire started. They lit matches and peered around. Miller told them to be careful with those matches or they might set the building afire. Loftus was on the stand at the inquest but said nothing about this in his testimony.

A. Williams, managing editor of The Tribune, told his story on the stand yesterday.

The funerals of Miles and Igoo took place yesterday morning with an immense crowd in attendance.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—A well dressed and fine looking mulatto shot himself about 8 o'clock yesterday morning in front of 49 Peck Court. From a card found in his pocket it was learned that his name is James Baker, and his home in Pittsburgh, Pa. The suicide had but fifty-five cents in his pocket.

WOOL GROWERS.

Hon. Columbus Delano Denounces the "Free Wool" Policy.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—At the National Wool Growers' meeting a committee to prepare an address to the wool growers of the United States was appointed. Judge Lawrence, of Ohio delivered an address upon the subject of wool growing in the United States. The feature of the meeting was the annual address of Hon. Columbus Delano, of Ohio, president of the National Wool Growers' association. He began by saying that both food and clothing should be produced at home, not purchased from abroad, when the people who consume them have facilities for their production. Necessity alone can justify their importation.

Continuing, he said: "Suppose the nation involved in a war, foreign or domestic, of serious dimensions, like that, for example, of the late rebellion; suppose our commerce embarrassed, as it was at that time; suppose our demand for wool no greater than it then was, and suppose that free trade had destroyed sheep industry and turned over to foreign nations the production of our wool; and we may be able to appreciate the folly, if not the crime, of attempting to put wool on the free list."

"Influenced by the act of 1888," he continued, "wool growing languishes throughout the United States, and without relief it must soon perish. In Texas the wool clip of 1885 was of the value of $9,228,234. In 1887 it was $5,010,674, showing a loss of $4,211,560. It is desirable to extinguish the industry best adapted to this vast section under the cry of 'Free trade' or 'Free wool.' Who will be benefited by a policy so unwise? None, except foreign nations. Under the influence of the act of 1883 our annual clip has been reduced 55,000,000 pounds, while it should have increased at the rate of 2 per cent. annually to keep pace with the natural growth of the country."

The speaker read statistics from well known authorities tending to show the necessity of protection in order to preserve the wool industry, and then said: "No further argument is needed to prove that free wool is death to the industry, and none who prefer the interests of this nation to those of foreign nations will fail to regret so serious a blow to our wool growers, and to the nation at large as free wool will inflict, and none but those under influence of personal interests or traditional prejudices will fail to admit that the attempt to put wool on the free list is an economic blunder."

"To those who favor free trade as our true policy, I address no protest against free wool. From their standpoint they are right. If it be free trade let us have it as a system, pure and simple, without the adulteration of duplicity under the name of 'incidental protection.' Let us do one or the other, and have an economic policy that is entitled to an honest and correct name. A 'tariff for revenue' with incidental protection is a delusion and a fraud. We need a National policy on this subject, honestly named. If protection, let it be general and uniform, embracing all American industries that can be profitably pursued by our people."

In conclusion, Mr. Delano said "Give then, to the United States a wise, economic policy that will stimulate to activity our looms, spindles, furnaces, forges and axils, and thus give increased activity, more employment and better wages to all laboring classes who are ready to unite in promoting a general prosperity, and we shall soon develop our various and inexhaustible resources. By such a system one industry will aid in supporting another, and we shall not be compelled to purchase from other nations; for our production will exceed our consumption, and we shall increase in wealth, prosperity and happiness."

At the conclusion of the address the meeting adjourned, and the delegates in a body called on the president and Secretary Rusk. Their brief interview with the president, as well as that with the secretary of agriculture, is said to have been of a very satisfactory character.

FARMERS AND KNIGHTS.

Ralph Beaumont Says Co-Operation, Not Consolidation, is the Object.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 5.—Mr. Ralph Beaumont, chairman of the National legislative committee of the Knights of Labor, and one of the committee to confer with a committee from the Farmers' and Laborers' union, said:

"We have no intention of endeavoring to effect a consolidation with the Farmers' and Laborers' union. As I understand it, the Northern and Southern Farmers' alliances, the Farmers' Mutual Benefit association and the Agricultural wheel have consolidated, and we are to confer with them with a view to furthering the interests of both organizations in the way of co-operation—not consolidation. We shall agree that when the farmers put a candidate in the field for either a legislative, senatorial or presidential position, we will support that candidate, and they will do the same for us."

Settlement Not Effected.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—No settlement was reached at the conference held in this city yesterday between Master Workman Arrington, of the Green Glass Workers; President Smith, of the Flint Glass Workers, and Messrs. D. W. Moore, J. P. Whitney and Walter Swindell, representing the wage committee of the Manufacturers' association.

Two Doctors Fall Out.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 5.—At the meeting of the medical society last night Dr. J. D. S. Davis and Dr. W. Locke Chew got into a controversy regarding the treatment of kidney diseases. The argument became so warm that the two men, when they met on the street after the meeting, renewed it in front of the Metropolitan hotel, when Davis shot Chew, fatally wounding him. Both are young men, and highly successful practitioners. Davis is in the hands of the sheriff.

SIZING UP HARRISON.

Caustic Comments of the Press on the President's First Message to Congress.

The Chicago Herald says that free whisky and tobacco are to be given the people in the place of free blankets, coal, lumber, etc.

Chicago Times: "President Harrison opens with a couple of columns descriptive of the state of affairs with foreign lands, in all of which, since we are at peace with the world, there is little of genuine interest."

Chicago News: Perhaps the most striking feature of President Harrison's first annual message to Congress is the number of new ways for spending money which it points out."

New York Herald: "President Harrison's message is a plain business document, well written, and making recommendations strictly in the line of the Republican platform."

Chicago Globe: "Curiously enough President Harrison follows almost exactly in the line of Cleveland's last message in declaring that the collection of moneys not needed for public uses imposes an unnecessary burden upon the people. The similarity ends with this frank admission, and in the President's recommendations there is neither reason nor statesmanship."

The Chicago Tribune, "while finding much to commend in the President's message, confesses its disappointment that the President advocates the repeal of the internal revenue tax on tobacco. The Tribune does not believe that the revenue released by the government would benefit in any appreciable degree any one but the middlemen in the tobacco trade, and urges that the tobacco tax be continued as a fund to pay pensions."

New York Times: "It is natural enough that a mind capable of composing so dull a message should be incapable of rightly appreciating its own work. As a mere reference index to the public business, the message may have some value in Congress and in newspaper offices, but if it records the events of the times it throws no light upon them, and while it refers to acknowledged evils, it suggests no proper remedies. No other motive than fear could have restrained the President from making clear and specific recommendations of tariff reform."

The New York Sun's comment is the most caustic yet seen. The Sun says: "For originality, grasp of public questions and sense of perspective in the statement of the condition of National affairs, General Harrison's message compares unfavorably with the first message sent to Congress by Mr. Hayes, twelve years ago. The weakest man that ever occupied the White House had more to offer Congress in way of information and suggestion, and offer it with a more vigorous individuality of thought and expression, than the present chief executive of the United States can exhibit or command. Nobody would be gladder than the Sun to discover in the President's first important state paper the faintest sign of intellectual promise, the least indication of a power to rise above the deadly dull line of mediocrity. Where is there such a sign? Take from the President's message those parts which merely repeat or paraphrase the ideas and recommendations of his cabinet officers and what remains? The rest is a scrap-book of comparatively unimportant facts."

The Frankfort Capital will be issued daily during the session of the Legislature, and as it will give a full report daily of the proceedings of the General Assembly, it is well worth the one dollar asked for it.

Geo. H. Thome has at last gotten his reward for his despicable work in contesting Hon. John G. Carlisle's election a few years ago. Republican Congressmen have elected him Third Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the House.

It was the worst element of the Republican party, backed by the Pacific Railroad rings, that placed Reed in the Speaker's chair of the present Congress. Watch him and see if he doesn't favor the monopoly crowd at any and every opportunity.

Thomas H. Corbett, Register of the Land Office, says the boom in Eastern Kentucky has put his department upon almost a self-sustaining basis. He and his clerks are weeks behind in their work, and they are busy till a late hour almost every night. Such activity in tracing up titles and looking through old grants was never known before. This increased business of the Land Office is pretty conclusive evidence that the boom in Southeastern Kentucky is of the substantial sort. And it is nothing to what American Express Company to Operate Over the C. & O.

On the first of the new year the American Express Company will commence doing the express business over the Chesapeake and Ohio Road. The Adams at present operates over the C. & O., but as stated recently, negotiations have been pending between the two companies looking to a transfer of this line to the American. The negotiations have been completed with the result as stated above. When the American goes on the C. & O. it will have all the Ingalls roads. The Enquirer is authority for the above statement.

A SPECIAL says Mrs. Martha Yazel, of Sanford, Fleming County, stepped to her door to meet a neighbor and dropped dead in the visitor's arms.

SUSAN V. SANDUSKY advertises a fine Bourbon farm for sale in this issue. The land will be sold at public auction at the court house in Paris December 11th.

MR. J. BLAKEBOROUGH, the jeweler, celebrated his eightieth birthday yesterday. He is " hale and hearty " for one at that age, and cabled the fact to his relatives in England.

ATTENTION is called to the advertisement of Mitchell & Mathews in this issue. They will sell some of their fine Shorthorn and Jersey cattle at Mayslick, on December 18th.

THE Newport correspondent of the Enquirer says "Miss Kate Thomas, daughter of Judge Thomas, of Vanceburg, died at the residence of James Lindsay on the Highlands in Campbell County.

NELSON EVANS, aged twenty-seven, of Carter County, and Ella Jones, aged twenty-seven, of Lewis County, will be married to-day at the home of the bride's father. It is the groom's second venture.

BEAR in mind that you get a ticket on that elegant combination diamond ring, laccopin, stud and bracelet with every dollar's worth you buy at Ballenger's. His stock of jewelry is the best in Maysville.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Philip Struble Gets Drunk, Falls in the Mud and is Suffocated.

'Squire Earnshaw, of Dover, was called yesterday to hold an inquest on the body of a man found dead early in the morning at a point a short distance above the Ripley ferry-landing. The remains proved to be those of Philip Struble, whose home was on the Ohio bank about three miles above Ripley. A special from Ripley gives the particulars of his death.

He went to Ripley Tuesday in a "john-boat," negotiated for the sale of his tobacco, secured an advance of $5; then began to celebrate, and by evening became pretty well loaded with liquor. Policeman Long assisted him to untie the boat, watched him get the boat headed toward home, and upon inquiring whether he could make it all right, Struble said: "Oh, yes; I've been drunk before and always got home."

This was the last seen of him alive. Yesterday morning James Craig found the body of a man lying on the Kentucky shore about a half a mile above the ferry-landing. It was Struble. His boat was pulled partly out of the water, and he was lying beside it dead. As he stepped out of the boat he had fallen face downward in the mud, his mouth and nostrils were buried in the slime, and he slowly strangled to death.

The boat contained a quantity of flour, sugar and other provisions, none of which had been disturbed. On his person were found $2.50 in silver, a knife and the remnant of a pint bottle of whisky. The deceased was a hard-working farmer, and leaves a widow and family.

MR. JAMES N. KIRK returned Tuesday evening, sound and well, from New York where he went some days ago with 160 head of fine cattle. He was not in the railroad wreck at Huntington last week, notwithstanding all reports to the contrary.

LEE JACKSON and Emma Warren, a colored couple, were married this morning at the County Clerk's office by Judge Coons. 'Squire Beasley, the veteran "matrimonialist" of Aberdeen, was present and pronounced the ceremony almost as good as his own.

WORN was received here yesterday of the sudden death of Miss Katie Smoot, last Saturday at Denver, Col., where she had been for some time for the benefit of her health. She leaves a number of friends in this city. Her home was in Bath County, and the remains will be interred at Bethel sometime next Sunday.

SAYS the Lexington Leader: "Miss Elizabeth Combs has been appointed by Thomas C. McDowell, Collector, to fill the place left vacant by himself, the position of cashier in the Internal Revenue office. Miss Combs is one of the most intellectual young ladies in Lexington society and is known for many graces."

SAYS the Covington Commonwealth: Martin King, of Maysville, Ky., was at the police office Wednesday morning bearing a letter of introduction from Jas. Hefflin, Chief of Police of that city. Mr. King had a skiff stolen from him at Maysville, and has been informed that it was brought down here and sold. The police will look it up."

THE concert to be given on to-morrow evening at Mitchell's Chapel, in Chester, will be like the former concerts there—excellent. A number of friends of the church have in the last few days offered their assistance, and those who attend will enjoy some choice songs, recitations, etc. The price of admission is so small (5 cents) that you will not miss the amount.

COLONEL FRANK S. OWENS and Mr. E. P. Browning, who returned a few days ago from Middlesborough, think there is a bright future in store for this wonderful city of Southeastern Kentucky. An exchange claims there has been a million and a half dollars invested there within the last six months. Zinc, copper and iron manufactures are to be started. Three large iron furnaces are under course of construction, and when completed iron can be manufactured at less expense than in Alabama. Lots sold in Middlesborough two months ago at $200 a foot and have since advanced 20 per cent.

THE City Council of Paris has contracted with the Paris Gas Company to light the city for five years at $19.50 per foot. Says the Bourbon News: "This is an astonishing to the tax-payers generally, and there is some tall kicking going on all over the city, and loud threats are being made that an injunction will be sworn out to stay the proceedings, on the grounds that the charter of the gas company will expire within a year, and that it has no right to contract for a period through which it will probably not exist as a corporate body. Most of the private consumers have taken stock in the Electric Light Company, which puts up a claim that it will furnish light cheaper than coal oil."

An Impromptu Musicales.

Last evening—Wednesday—it was our good fortune to be invited and in attendance at an impromptu musicale at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Hunter, on East Third street.

The performers were Professor Ludwig Saul, violinist, Professor R. P. Southard, vocalist, and Miss Sara P. Wilkins, ac companionist.

Professor Saul is a young man quite recently from Germany, comes well recommended as a thorough musician, and his rendering of "The Reverie," by Viouxtemps, a "Cavatina," by Raff, the marvelously beautiful "Legend," by Wienanski, the difficult "Larghetto," from Mozart's Quintette in A, and other pieces, shows his masterful skill with the king of all instruments. It will be a bit of unusual good fortune if the young people of the city can induce him to make his home here and take a class for instruction.

Professor Southard sang "Thine Eyes So Blue," by Lassen, "O That We Two Were Maying," by Gounod, and his "Ave Maria," sung in German, after Luzze, and other songs, showed high cultivation of the voice. Mr. Southard is conducting a class in voice culture in this city.

The accompaniments by Miss Wilkins were, of course, artistic, delightful and added no little to the genuine enjoyment of the occasion. If anybody wishes to make such music again, may we be there. ALL OF US.

River Items.

Where, oh, where is the Katie Prather? The Handy leaves for Portsmouth every evening except Sunday and the Bonanza for Cincinnati.

The Andes is due down this evening from Pittsburg and the Rainbow is due up to-night for that city.

Captain Charles Muhleman, late of the steamer Andes, has quit the river and gone into the milling business at Hannibal, Monroe County, Ohio.

John Thompson, head cook on the Cincinnati and Louisville packet City of Madison, has reached his seventieth year. He entered the service on the steamer Home, in the Cincinnati and Portsmouth trade, in 1835.—Exchange.

Capt. George W. Rowley, who recently retired from the command of the Pittsburgh packet Scotia, did his first steam-boating in 1834, commencing as fireman. He was granted pilot's license in 1838. Most of his life has been spent on the Ohio and in his long and varied experience he never has had an accident which caused anyone's life to be forfeited or a limb to be broken. His home is at Pittsburg where he has been a faithful member of the M. E. Church for fifteen years.

Mysterious Disappearance of Andrew Dawson.

The Cincinnati Post says: "Six weeks ago, at noon time, Andrew Dawson, aged 11, carried his father's dinner from the modest home in the Spencer House to Smith's coal fleet at the foot of Elm street, where Robert Dawson, the father, is employed.

"Cousin Bennie, from Maysville, is here and I want to hurry home," said the little fellow as he skipped blithely up the track of the coal elevator and started along Front street toward home six blocks away. Since that moment no trace of the lad has been found despite the vigorous search of the distracted parents. Every river captain has been questioned without avail. He was an unusually good boy and had formed no associations away from home as far as known."

Young Dawson has a number of relatives here in Maysville.

To The Young Ladies.

Maysville Division No. 6, U. R. K. of P., will give two prizes to the lady selling the greatest number of tickets to the entertainment the Division will give at Neptune Hall during Christmas week. First prize, lady's gold watch. Second prize, fine gold-headed umbrella. Ladies wishing to compete for the prizes will call at Pearce & Ort's furniture store for tickets. d2d3tmw1

Here and There.

Mrs. Andrews, of Memphis, Tenn., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Thomas.

Miss Tillie G. Small left this morning for Washington City to spend the winter with relatives.

Mrs. Powell B. Owens, of Fern Leaf, after a very pleasant visit to her cousin, Mrs. Vanmeter, of Louisville, arrived home last evening.

PARIS is to have electric lights, too. The company has already been organized. The News says: "The cash capital is $50,000, and the stocks are nearly all taken. They have ordered all of the necessary machinery, including an engine of 120-horse power. Also ordered 220 chestnut poles. They will erect 2,000 lamps of 16-candle power each, and 10 arc lights. The arc lights will be furnished to the city free of cost, and it is said that the small lights will be furnished to consumers cheaper than coal oil."

Stanley's Expedition.

It Arrived at Mbiki on December 1.

MET BY A PARTY OF GERMANS.

Soldiers Escort Him to the Coast—The Whole Camp in Perfect Discipline. France Orders a War Vessel to Brazil. Other Cable Dispatches.

ZANZIBAR, Dec. 5.—The Stanley expedition arrived at Mbiki on Dec. 1. All of the Europeans with the party were well except Commissioner Stevens, who is very ill with fever. The whole camp is in perfect discipline. A party of German soldiers under Lieut. Schmidt preceded the party on its journey to the coast, selecting its nightly camping grounds. Stanley and his companions express themselves in high praise of the Germans for their kind reception.

Stanley Hears From the Emperor.

BERLIN, Dec. 5.—The emperor has sent telegrams to Emin and Stanley expressing his sympathy with them in all that they have undergone and congratulating them upon the ending of their dangerous journey, concluding by welcoming them back to civilization and their homes.

Both Protesting.

LISBON, Dec. 5.—In response to the protest which the British minister here was to make against the Portuguese claim to ownership of Mashonaland, there are now vigorous Portuguese protests. The Lisbon Geographical society has protested against the action of the English authorities in supplying the Lohengulu with rifles, for the purpose of enslaving the natives of Mashonaland, and demands that energetic measures be immediately taken for the protection of the natives. This protest, it will be seen, accuses the British government of being concerned in the slave trade. The society also protests against the visits of the British consul at Mozambique to the interior.

Dock Laborers' Books All Right.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The accountant who examined the books in which were kept the accounts of the receipts and disbursements of money for the aid of the dock laborers in their recent strike, certified that the accounts are in a fairly satisfactory condition. They show that the leaders of the strike received no money beyond that given in payment of their actual expenses. The accountant says that allowing for the pressure under which the leaders worked, and the extensive field of their operations, the discrepancies in the accounts, amounting to $192, are trifling.

Still Snowing in Austria.

VIENNA, Dec. 5.—The heavy snow storms which have prevailed throughout Austria for the last three days have caused a total suspension of railway traffic. Vienna is completely snow bound and provisions are becoming scarce and dear.

Will Striking Against "Blacklegs."

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The gas stokers and coal porters in South London have notified their employers that if they do not within a week dismiss the "blacklegs" employed by the companies a general strike will follow.

Appealing to the Emperor.

BERLIN, Dec. 5.—The striking colliers of Bonn have forwarded a petition to Emperor William asking his majesty to intercede in their behalf with the masters, as in the case of the Westphalia strikes.

Expelled from Austria.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The editor of The Independent, an Italian paper printed in Trieste, has been expelled from Austria by the Vienna government for publishing seditious and insulting articles.

An Unpopular Verdict.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 5.—The verdict of the court in acquitting Moussa Bey of the charges of pillage, murder, outrage, etc., is very unsatisfactory.

Bonaparte Calls on the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 5.—Prince Louis Bonaparte is visiting this city. He was granted an audience by the czar and czarina yesterday.

To Bridge the English Channel.

PARIS, Dec. 5.—The Autorite says that an English company has applied for a concession to build a bridge across the English channel.

AFTER A SPIRITUALIST.

A Furniture Dealer Shot Down in His Own Store by a Crank.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—A well dressed man entered the furniture store of Robert Cashin yesterday and commenced inspecting the furniture. Mr. Cashin, thinking the stranger wished to purchase goods, stepped up to him and asked him what he wanted. "Are you a Spiritualist?" asked the stranger with a smile. Mr. Cashin, thinking his visitor was joking, laughed, and replied that he was. "You infernal scoundrel," shouted the stranger, "I've been looking for you for over a year."

He drew a heavy bulldog revolver and aiming it at Mr. Cashin was about to fire when the latter sprang upon him and a terrific struggle followed. The two fell to the floor when the weapon was discharged, the bullet entering Mr. Cashin's right side. The stranger freed himself and was about to fire again when John Fitzpatrick, a clerk in the store, sprang to his employer's rescue. The stranger hit him with the butt end of the pistol, knocking him down. Officer Roach rushed in and overpowered the man and took him to the station house. He described himself as Frank Mallon but gave no address.

Fire in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Dec. 5.—A fire this morning in the clothing store of Michael Russell, No. 188 Bridge street, damaged the store to the amount of $500. Russell claims that his stock of clothing was damaged to the amount of $35,000. The cause of the fire was not learned.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

HELENA.

Dr. Cook is on duty again. Services in the M. E. Church Sunday. George Gray is in Cincinnati this week. Spareribs and backbones are plentiful here. Miss Anna Ross made a short visit in Fleming Sunday.

Barker Jones, of Paris, visited relatives here Sunday.

Contributions are now in order for Christmas presents.

Captain Slicer, of Elizaville, was here as usual Monday.

Harrison Bros. have opened the finest line of candles ever in Helena.

The ladies of the M. E. Church have decided to have a tree of fine presents Christmas.

Misses Lula and Lizzie Best, attending school at Millersburg, spent a few days at home last week.

SHANNON.

Nearly all the young and good-looking bachelors in and about Mayslick are either married or engaged to be.

Person Anderson says the fellow that hasn't got his pitcher out and up while the matrimonial rain is falling is in bad fix.

Mayslick, if not "the loveliest village of the plain," is growing famous for its pretty church weddings and handsome widows.

Alberta Caldwell, after enjoying the wedding and other festivities, returned to school at Mayslick Monday. Joe E. Caldwell returned to Danville same day, both having come to their sister's wedding.

MAYSICK.

The corn has been greatly injured by the wet weather.

The mercury dropped last Friday morning to twenty-two degrees above zero.

The Hopper-Caldwell wedding was largely attended, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather.

R. P. Hopper and bride returned Monday from their bridal trip, highly delighted and in fine health.

There were a few thankful hearts here last Thursday. Services in the Christian Church. Sermon by Rev. W. T. Spears.

Mrs. J. A. Jackson and son leave on the K. C. Thursday morning to visit her mother, Cane Ridge, Bourbon County, and her brother, H. M. Collins, in Paris.

A. G. Wilson, a former citizen of this county, made us a visit last week, the first time in four years. He now lives at old Clarkburg, Lewis County. He is still traveling in the interest of the celebrated marble works of S. J. Daugherty, of the city of Maysville. There is some very fine work from that shop in our cemetery.

NOTICE OF EXECUTRIX SALE

—OF FINE—

BOURBON FARM!

As executrix of the late Isaac B. Sandusky, I will sell at public sale at the court house door in Paris, Ky., on the fine farm, containing 370 acres, owned by him at the time of his death. This farm lies immediately upon a splendid turnpike, within three miles of Millersburg and about six miles from Paris. It is well watered and well supplied with timber, and has upon it a comfortable residence and the usual out-buildings, and two good tobacco barns. The farm is too well known to require a more detailed description. One hundred and twenty-six acres of the 370 will be sold subject to the widow's dower, but this can also be purchased at private sale upon reasonable terms. SUSAN V. SANDUSKY, d5d&wt Executrix of Isaac B. Sandusky.

Sale of Shorthorns and Jerseys
